Guest Artist - Marika Balzat

Marika Balzat is 21 years old and has just completed her Bachelor of Music Degree from Auckland University, majoring in Violin Performance under Elizabeth Holowell. She started learning the violin at age 4 with Suzuki training and has since found a love of performing all genres such as Folk, Celtic, Gypsy Jazz, Musicals, Baroque and Classical. She has been teaching the violin for 5 years and has been performing both solo and with her family for as long as she can remember. Her music has taken her on tours through the USA, Europe, Australia, and Fiji. She has performed with Jordan Luck, Bryan Bell, Emme Lentino, Marian Burns and for Sir John Key, Maggie Barry etc.

Her passion is in teaching and performing which she has moved into full time this year. She is looking forward to all the exciting opportunities life is throwing her way.

Music Director & Guest Accompanist - Amy Cottingham

Amy Cottingham has been teaching, composing and performing music professionally for over 20 years. Her career in her hometown of Tulsa, Oklahoma included organising and facilitating monthly variety concerts for 7 years, performing as an orchestral pianist with two symphonies for 8 years, teaching self-developed workshops on music appreciation, running a full-time piano studio for 13 years, involvement in teachers organisations, accompanying musicals, choirs and recitals, performing solo and collaborative concerts, singing in choirs, and full-time work as a gigging pianist for parties, weddings, receptions, and corporate events.

The Pohutukawa Singers

The choir has been meeting in Albany since the start of 2012. Our repertoire comprises a large variety of both sacred and secular music from the 16th to the 21st century. It includes madrigals, motets, folksong arrangements, carols, jazz, gospel, as well as contemporary music by New Zealand and Australian composers.

We are continuing to grow in both numbers and strength and we always welcome new members. We are fortunate to be able to practice on Tuesday evenings in the music department of Pinehurst School, 75 Bush Road, Albany. For more information please look at our website
